

"Healthy Mind, Healthy Body" Cooking / Nutrition Class with Chef Gundega

Come and discover secrets on how products used daily can benefit your health. Example: We know the benefit of chamomile tea is to improve sleep quality. But did you know that chamomile tea also promotes digestive health?

Chef Gundega will demonstrate how to conveniently prepare wholesome food for yourself and share with family, friends, and community. You don't have to be a professional chef to learn and make simple step-by-step food that nourishes your body and well-being. Come and join these classes and take home recipes that will bring a smile to your table and your life.
